

Empowering victim-survivors through employment.

The Women in Work program is dedicated to helping victim-survivors of family violence re/enter the workforce and supporting their healing journey.

We work closely with local businesses to create or find job opportunities and help foster inclusive, safe, and supportive employment environments.

Interested in becoming an employment partner? Contact a Women in Work staff member or visit our website to find out more.

Why become a Women in Work employment partner?

- ◆ Women who have overcome domestic violence often display remarkable resilience and determination. Women in Work supports them to bring this strength into the workplace.
- ◆ Supporting the employment of victim-survivors not only fosters diversity and inclusion, but enriches the workplace, promotes understanding and broadens perspectives.
- ◆ Your business can play an active role in addressing important social issues and contributing to social change.
- ◆ Help victim-survivors regain confidence and connect with their community.
